Are We Thinkers?

By

Wallace Culver

The cost of the World War in money expended, property damaged, hospital costs, loss of lives, etc., would be beyond the comprehension of the ordinary individual. The cost measured entirely from a monetary standpoint is staggering, almost unbelievable. The estimated cost of the war to the world is 340 billion dollars. Suppose there was this much gold in the world. It would require 128 trains of 70 cars each and 8 trains of 57 cars, each carrying the 50 ton variety, to carry that amount of gold.

A sum of $34,000,000,000 was necessary to slaughter each man in the World War. If 340 billions in gold were coined into double eagles ($20 gold pieces), there would be 18,888,888,870 of them, or enough to form a pillar 22 feet square with the top reaching 6,375 feet in the air.

If these gold pieces were placed edge to edge in a single row, there would be a line long enough to reach the moon, a distance of 240,000 miles, and enough would remain to encircle the earth 5 1/3 times.

If these double eagles were placed edge to edge, they would pave a boulevard 351 feet wide reaching from here to Kansas City, and enough of them would remain to pave every street and alley in the city of Maryville.

Do we want another war?

May I Ask A Question?

In an article in a recent number of the School and Community Magazine, John Dewey says that real teachers have the ability to arouse and develop curiosity. They thrill and smile when a child asks an intelligent question. They are alert for material to stimulate wonder. They do not fear to say "I do not know, but maybe we can find out. I too, want to know."

Fight 'Em, Bearcats, Fight 'Em!

Boom! Boom! Here Comes the New Tower!

Freshman Party Is Held in Social Hall Last Night

A freshman party was held last Friday night in Social Hall. Ninety to a hundred freshmen attended. Paul Shell, Ralph Westfall and Wanda Rieck, the officers of the class, served as hosts and hostess for the affair. Miss Pike, dean of women attended, as faculty sponsor. Bridge and dancing comprised the evening's entertainment.

College Brevities

The Mathematics Department of the College is offering two fifteen weeks extension courses, at Grant City. The classes, Astronomy and Mathematics 15, are being conducted by Miss Katherine Helwig of the College faculty.

Miss Thelma Fern Hall, who was in school at the College 1929-30, and 1930-31, is teaching school this year, twelve miles south of King City, her home town. Miss Hall together with her sister, a graduate nurse, recently called at the College for a brief visit.

Play Is Presented at Dramatic Club Meeting Last Week

At the regular meeting of the College Dramatic Club, last Thursday, play "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Downs was presented. Miss Maxine Wood was the director and Marion Gibbons, Marjorie Drake and Buford Clark took the roles of Pierrot, Pierrette and the Manufacturer, respectively.

The subject for this week was the Italian Renaissance of Drama and Miss Mildred Reynolds gave a review of the Italian period and its effect upon the drama of the world. Miss Cecile Gist gave the reading, "A Slim Princess."

At this meeting the Club elected as their representatives to serve on the Dramatic Council, the Misses Marjorie Drake and Margaret Noble.

The play mentioned above was presented for the Women's Missionary Society at the M. E. Church South last Friday afternoon by the same cast and director.

W. T. Garrett Talks on Advances Made in Science During 1931

"Some advances in the Sciences during 1931" was the subject of an address given by W. T. Garrett, chairman of the department of biology of the College, at the Men's Monday Forum, yesterday. In his introduction the speaker said: "The chief difference between western civilization and eastern civilization does not depend so much upon western superiority as upon the greater western emphasis upon science."

The important recent advances in sciences which were discussed included the following: it was discovered that infantile paralysis was caused by a disappearing microbe, a discovery which may result in the stamping out of this disease; Dr. Carl Caskey Speidel, winner of the one thousand dollar prize offered by the American Association for the Advancement of Science discovered that the nerves of the body grow out from the central nervous system; in 1931 a vitamin was prepared chemically for the first time in history; a hitherto unknown germ of smallpox was discovered; a microscope was developed that will magnify 17,000 times; and many other important scientific advancements.

Forte Sandison Is National Officer of Sigma Mu Delta

At the National council meeting of the Sigma Mu Delta fraternity held at Pittsburg, Kansas, December 19, Forte H. Sandison was elected National vice-president. Elwood Williams another student at the College whose home is at Oregon, was also a delegate from Gamma Chapter of the organization which is located in Maryville.

The delegates enjoyed the Christmas formal dance given by Alpha Chapter at Pittsburg. They reported that students at Pittsburg were parted that students at Pittsburg were counting on the Bearcat vs. Pittsburg game as being the best game of the season, and they were willing to wait at that time, on who would be the winner.

Former Student Wins
The Sedalia high school Tiger football team, coached by Donald "Dixie" Davenport, a graduate of the College, won its second Big 7 Championship last fall. Dixie has good prospects for a successful basketball season this year also.

A remarkable transformation is taking place right here in this building. From a small, dusty, cluttered workshop there is slowly emerging what is hoped to be a successful edition of the Tower. Of course, the present status of the dummy is not exactly a perfect double for the finished product, but out of the small mountain of pictures, the messy can of rubber cement, and the here of mounting board a new Tower is sure to come. The time when this new year-book gets here depends on you. The sooner you help your organization to get its write-up in, and the sooner you dig down in your jeans and drag out that dime, which is your part of the price for the page in the Tower, the sooner it will be in your hands.

All the class pictures have been mounted, as have the pictures in that august section labelled "Faculty." The pictures of that great Bearcat eleven, which finished the season without a single defeat, have been matted to the engraver, and say, you should see the pictures of the Tower Queens. They alone make the book worth while.

But listen, don't quit just because you have had your picture taken, for it is up to you to select the most popular boy and the most popular girl in school. Another job that you can do is to turn in any snap-shots which you would like to have used in the Tower.

And now for a word of explanation. If you have seen the Business Manager stumbling down the hall talking to himself, or noticed the bald spot on the top of his head and the gray hairs creeping out around his ears, or even if you see the Editor tearing her hair and gnashing her teeth—its depression, pictures and write-ups, not Crosby, Columbo, and Vallee.

A Touch of Humor

By

Kermit Culver

The Rev. Charles Kelsor, pastor of the Emanuel Methodist Protestant church in Philadelphia was missing from home for twenty-four hours. When he finally returned, he said he had been lost in the fog and had walked almost to Wilmington, Del., and back. Those who would doubt the good man's word believe he must have been searching for something harder to find than the city of Philadelphia—probably the Gospel truth.

There have been occasional wifepers floating about the college to the effect that certain members of the faculty are somewhat absent-minded. If there is any measure of truth in these reports, (and I am not at all sure that there is), we have no reason to complain because of a trifling tendency to forgetfulness. It could be much worse—so bad, in fact, as to endanger our physical well-being. Suppose, for instance, we had as a chemistry professor the man who was so absent-minded that he poured sulfur down his back and scratched his pancake.

The Democrats recently held a nation-wide "victory" dinner at which the party leaders hailed their prospective success. If they had waited until November and served the dinner at the polls, it would have lured extra thousands of Democrats out of hiding and so lessened the chances of the food leaving a sour taste in the mouth.

Three groceries in East St. Louis were robbed of 348 loaves of bread, four dozen doughnuts, 13 cakes, and 15 pounds of salmon. A likely suggestion for the police would be that the robbery was committed by someone who was expecting his mother-in-law for dinner the next day.

Down On The Farm
Mademoiselle De Kika, instructor of French at the College, and whose home is in Paris, France, spent the weekend on a farm with Helen Busby. It was Miss de Kika's first experience on a farm and she enjoyed it very much. She was quite taken by the pigs and chickens, cows and other animals. She liked everything except the ride back over the slippery roads which caused her to raise a question of whether the driver had been drinking. Miss de Kika would like to go again.

News-Press Editor Speaks to District Press Group

"Do not wait until some deed of greatness, you may do; and do not wait until you can shed your light afar; but to the many duties near you be true," was the admonition of C. L. Rutt, managing editor of the St. Joseph News Press, to the editors of the newspaper of Northwest Missouri in his address to them recently in St. Joseph, at their forty-second annual meeting. Mr. Rutt who has been in newspaper work for more than 50 years, in quoting the old church song, said: "Brighten The Corner Where You Are." And as was mentioned at the meeting, this admonition might be applicable to most anyone in most any line of business or work.

S. T. C. Student Hitch-Hikes 1,500 Miles and Back

Charles Hurley, a student at S. T. C. is living proof that the spirit of adventure is not entirely lacking in modern youth.

During the Christmas holidays, Mr. Hurley hitch-hiked to his home at Secretary, Maryland and returned, covering a distance of almost three thousand miles in ten states and the District of Columbia.

On the way to Maryland he was accompanied by Arthur Fugley, brother of (Orvil) Fugley a graduate of the College who is now teaching in Maryland.

The boys left Maryville on Friday, December 18 at 7 a. m. and arrived at New Windsor, Maryland on Sunday, December 20 at 8 a. m. From St. Joseph they traveled on Highway 36 to Indianapolis, Ind., crossing the Mississippi river at Hannibal, Missouri, into the state of Illinois. From Indianapolis they took Highway 40 to Baltimore City, crossed the Ohio river into Wheeling, West Virginia.

After crossing the Allegheny mountains they entered the state of Maryland and then crossed the Blue Ridge Mountains to New Windsor, Maryland where Mr. Hurley was formerly a student at the Blue Ridge College. On December 23, the boys went to Secretary, Maryland.

Mr. Hurley visited Dover, the capital of Delaware, the National Museum, Lincoln Memorial, Capitol Building, Smithsonian Institute, and Washington Monument in Washington D. C. and went over Mt. Vernon in Virginia. On the return journey he left his home January second and arrived at Maryville on January 5.

Does a College Education Help or Hinder?

College may ruin some people, according to certain reports, but it certainly couldn't hurt the spelling ability of a certain M. S. T. C. freshman, according to the following list of short cuts or new arrangements in spelling routine which he turned in on a test paper in College physics recently:

Definition, projection, oostaltios, slendart, metere, determining, experment, meater, viabration, indepent, fore, centerfugal, centerpoool, apperatus, marking, equilbrume, distibing, valum, alutume, alchol, eleangation, mlrometer, desality, apparatus, mulying and others too numerous to mention.

C. H. S. Debate
It was decided that it is better never to love than to love and lose, the other day, in the College High assembly. At least the negative team, Helen Dougan and Edwin Marshall defeated the affirmative team, Leland Thornhill and Leona Mae Shell in a debate on the question: Resolved, that it is better to love and lose than never to love. The chairman was Paul Loch.

Alpha Phi Sigma Holds Initiation

Glenn Duncan, President, Is Assisted by 17 Members in Formal Ceremonies.

Fifty-one members and Neophytes were present at the Alpha Phi Sigma formal initiation held in the music room and Social Hall at the College last Thursday evening, January 14.

Glenn Duncan, senior student at the College and president of the organization to which College students who were high school valedictorians or salutatorians and students who rank high in scholarship in their college classes are eligible for membership, presided at the meeting. Mr. Duncan directed the initiation ceremony in which he was assisted by seventeen members of the organization. S. G. LaMar one of the sponsors of Alpha Phi Sigma gave a short address.

The following six College students were initiated into the Master or highest degree of the organization: Norvel Saylor, Louise Smith, Fred Lindsey, Birdie Lemaster, Marjorie Kelly, and Georgia Belle Moorshead. Of these the last four mentioned came up through the lower two degrees to the master degree while Norvel Saylor and Louise Smith came in as members entirely new to the organization.

Twelve students were initiated into the second or Novice Degree in the organization. They are: Ellen Marie Walker, Frank Westfall, Boyde M. Helzer, Lucille Carson, Electa Bender, Marceline Cooper, Elizabeth Edwards, Eustasia Mendenhall, Paul Shell, Jacqueline Rush, Lila May Dodge, and Maxine Hudson.

The twenty-four College students who were initiated in the first or Apprentice Degree in Alpha Phi Sigma are: Callista Mae Miller, Martha Louise Stucki, Mary E. ## Guess Who?

The character in last week's "Guess Who" was Edson Miller. This week's edition of the "Guess Who" is a member of the Senior class. She is a sorority girl and very prominent on the campus. Anatomically speaking we judge that she will get along all right in this old world without the assistance of any one. She is a blonde, and an unusual one. At school her interests are mostly concentrated on the third floor of the administration building.

Miss Bernice Crockett, a former student of the College and whose home is at Stanberry, has asked that her Northwest Missourian be sent to Margaret Hall, which is on the campus of Iowa State College, at Ames, Iowa.

STROLLER

The Stroller has it from fairly good authority that Tiger Brown and Helen Grace have been drinking pretty heavily at the fountain in the Kindergarten Department.

Lewis' looked like the College assembly in full session every night last week. The Stroller saw all the local celebrities there imbibing freely of things as dangerous as coca-cola and ice cream sodas.

Have you entered the bridge tournament at the Zero Club?

The Stroller wonders why Glenn Duncan has developed such ability as a dish washer recently? Do you suppose Marceline Cooper has anything to say about that?

Ida Beth Newton thought the referee was conducting traffic instead of a basketball game the other night for she thought he yelled "Keep to the right" whenever he said: "Cape Girardeau."

Wasn't it Helen Grace who said: "Oh my gosh, my gosh" when Culver in his recent assembly speech said: "These are obvious and certified facts."

Have you noticed that one of the most eligible student bachelors on the campus, who has steered clear of women forever so long, is now dancing attendance on a certain young lady? Don't give up hope girls, they all come around eventually. But—you must remember it's Leap Year, and according to the dope on the recent Leap Year party, they're taking 'em young. Here is a sample of hard times these days: The Stroller discovered that you can see some classy basketball games in this intra-mural tournament, and on occasion you can also see some very good fish encounters at the same time. Tex Rickard would never allow that. It's all free. The Stroller thinks the meanest man yet is the one who walked up to a fellow who was dancing and said: "that girl hasn't got no large feet as I thought she had." The girl hasn't spoken to either one of them since.

The Stroller knows something about the spell of the moon and the stars but he never was with a girl at M. S. T. C.

COLLEGE AIMS.

The light which radiates from the institutions of higher learning may illuminate our march through the intricate maze of human relationships or it may blind us to the dangers of the pitfalls which await only an opportunity to seal forever the fate of human progress. As College students we should realize first, that training cannot eliminate the dangers of life but it can better equip us to face those dangers without fear of annihilation. Courage, however, is not in itself, enough. It must be directed by vision undimmed by prejudice, unstained by the desire for personal glory, uncontaminated by overvaluation of material things; it must be driven by the dynamic force of a

Bearcats Defeat Conference Rivals

Springfield and Warrensburg Fall Before Maryville in Race For Cage Title.

The Bearcats made a long gain in their M. I. A. A. conference campaign last week, defeating the Springfield Bears 20 to 16 Thursday night, and routing Warrensburg 27 to 13 Friday. Both games were played on the opponents' courts.

Springfield really threw a scare into Bearcat followers in the first game by taking a lead at the first which grew to six points and was not relinquished until well into the second half. At the end of the first period the Bears were ahead 14 to 8. In the last half, the Bearcat lineup was shifted, the defense was tightened, and Maryville scored 12 points to their opponents two, to win the game by a four-point margin. The Springfield gymnasium was filled to capacity to see the team which had defeated the Pittsburg five, a team whose fame is widespread in southwest Missouri.

Vanquish Warrensburg.
The Warrensburg affair was merely a matter of routine, forty minutes of play being necessary to raise the Bearcats to a more commanding position in the win and lose column. The Mules had little expectation of winning, and played that sort of a game. Likewise the rooters expressed little hope, a half dozen or so in a uniformed group putting up a feeble attempt at organized yelling now and then. In the first half, Maryville scored practically at will, to lead at the end of that period 16 to 4.

In the last half, the Mules lost all semblance of organization on offense and fired away at the goal from all distances, seldom connecting. The interest in the game was low, except for occasional bits of quibbling among players, referee, and onlookers.

The box scores of the games:

Maryville (20)	Springfield (16)
Merriek, 5	Scroggins, 3
Hodgkinson, 2	Adams, 1

Mr. Cook said recently: "Say, I hope our boys beat Springfield tonight. You know, I never have liked them since they came up by parading around over town in those big 10 gallon hats and number 52 boots."

The Stroller isn't so surprised that the Mules didn't show up so good in the basketball game the other night; this depression and farm troubles is hard on all farm animals—No! Hey! Hey!—We

Fortune in Royal Gems Reported Missing in Spain

Paris, Jan. 19.—(P)—The fortune in jewels with which the Infanta Eulalia, daughter of one of the queens of Spain, had intended to finance the marriage of her grandsons to the daughters of former King Alfonso are missing, it was learned today.

A trunk supposed to contain the gems was sent to her from Spain several days ago but when she opened it she found only a heap of shawls and several old umbrellas. The jewels, which she had sent to Madrid from Paris when the Germans were advancing on the city during the war, were gone.

She had thought that relatives in Spain had the jewels but now she is unable to learn definitely where they have been since she sent them out of Paris. She is convinced, however, that they are simply mislaid and eventually will be returned to her.

Charges of Grand Larceny Are Filed Against Dale Clark

Charges of grand larceny were filed against Dale Clark late last night by Virgil I. Rathbun, prosecuting attorney, before J. F. Roelofson in justice court. Clark waived his preliminary hearing, and when he could not furnish the $1,500 bond, was returned to the county jail.

Clark was arrested with Charles Melton a week ago yesterday by Sheriff Harve England, accused of stealing some articles from the homes of Oakley Wallace and Phil Grown in the Workman Chapel district. Mrs. Clark, at the time, said they had had virtually nothing to eat in the house for several days.

Since then officers say that Clark confessed to taking some articles from Sidney and Pearl Waldruff and Lila Chestnut. These included, slippers, a coat, two dresses, some aluminum ware and a flashlight, all of which amounted to a total value of $45.50.

Since Clark waived his preliminary hearing, officers believe he will be brought up before Judge D. D. Reeves in this term of circuit court. Petit larceny charges against Melton will probably be filed in the near future by Mr. Rathbun.

Two Good Old Days in Maryville

Two days of values—Thousands of dollars will be saved by Nodaway county people. Shop Friday to avoid the Saturday day crowds.

We have reached a long arm into the past . . . we've brought back to Maryville the golden age of low prices always mentioned with a sigh. Twenty years ago! 1912! The good old day of Gibson hats, nickel cigars, 9c eggs, six piece bathing suits, and hundreds of other memories of "way back when." Miraculously, these days are to be lived again. When the merchants' doors open Friday morning they will reveal the finest, the newest, the most desirable of 1932's merchandise . . . but the prices . . . they'll be those you or your daddy knew before the war. . . .

Prices . . . we can say with all assurance . . . will never, can never go so low again for the next decade at least. It's your big opportunity . . . you're biggest and last chance to buy everything and anything you need during this riotous two day event of values. Watch this paper tomorrow for merchants' announcements.

Watch this paper tomorrow and Thursday for merchants' advertisements announcing their "Way Back When" Bargains.

Hawaiian Citizens
Organize to Combat
Crime Conditions

Honolulu, Jan. 19.—(P)—Resolutions urging appointment of a crime commission and provisions for policewomen in this city were adopted at a mass meeting under auspices of the newly formed citizens' organization for good government here last night.

The meeting was called at the request of Governor Lawrence M. Judd, who said he wished to obtain more detail for a social and recreational program to combat crime.

With a rigorous five-point program before it, the Hawaiian legislature moved rapidly to reorganize Honolulu's law enforcement agencies and strengthen criminal laws.

The legislators, convened in special session yesterday, inaugurated two bills to make the police chief and prosecutor appointive instead of elective. The second reading of the bills today is in line with legislative leaders' efforts to push them through in five days—the fastest possible action.

Points of the reform program:
1.—Create a police commission, appointive by the governor, which would appoint the chief of police.
2.—Make the public prosecutor a member of the attorney general's staff, to be appointed by the attorney general with the governor's approval.
3.—Provide death as the maximum penalty for assaults upon women.
4.—Confer emergency police powers on the governor and place activities of the territorial high sheriff under his control.
5.—Provide punishment for loitering on the highways, a measure designed to break up Honolulu's gangs.

This and That

A Nodaway county boy's enthusiasm for ice skating was shown recently when his mother told him the Biblical story of Noah and the Ark. After Mrs. Irvin Loch had related in detail to her son Eugene, 7, the story of the flood that visited the earth and swept away "every living thing," the boy turned to her and seriously asked, "Mamma, is that a true story?" The mother replied, "Yes, son, that is in the Bible," and to this the son shouted, "Oh, boy, I wish it had frozen."

Lawrence W. Ray, retired businessman of Oregon City, Oregon, a former resident of Maryville, who is not a resident of Bolton, Ore., officiated in the capacity and referee and scorer for the intercity contract bridge tournament that started last Wednesday between West Linn and Oregon City teams.

Noble F. Reaksecker of Skidmore, brother-in-law of Mr. Ray, received a copy of the Oregon City Enterprise which carried a story about Mr. Ray being the official of the tournament.

New "Gold Fever" Fires Imaginations of Mexicans as Result of Rich Discovery

Oaxaca City, Mexico, Jan. 19.—(P)—A new "gold fever," akin to that which brought the conquistadores across the Atlantic and turned Spanish commoners into golden knights almost exactly 400 years ago, swept the whole of Oaxaca Valley today.

Following the discovery of a forgotten tomb of a group of ancient Mixtec nobles last week and the uncovering of millions of dollars worth of gold and jewels, the belief grew among the people today that further fabulous treasure awaits the excavator's spade and pick.

A party of the government's principal archaeologists has arrived to study the treasure, which is now under heavy military guard.

The government party is headed by Raygadas Vertiz, Mexican archaeologist director, Ignacio Marquina, director of pre-hispanic monuments, and Fernando Borbolla, director of anthropology of the national museum.

It is the potential treasure that still awaits whoever may be able to find the lost Mixtec royal city, however, that has fired Oaxacan imaginations. The present find is outside the true Mixtec country, and the ancient capital, where the remainder of the Mixtec kings held court and were buried, holds the prospect of discoveries much greater than the present one.

The valley of Oaxaca, which has been rocked and shaken by quakes since long before the coming of the Spaniards, probably was the prize over which the Mixtecs and Zapotecs fought the endless war that survived even the Spanish Conquest.

The discoverer of the Mixtec tomb, Prof. Alfonso Caso, said today the principal tomb was the seventh invaded by his excavators, and the first to give up extensive treasure.

"For each 100 pounds of meat use: 9 pounds salt (10 lbs., if weather is warm); 2 1/2 lbs. sugar or 4 lbs. molasses or syrup made from sugar; 2 ounces of salt peter; 4 1/2 gallons water.

"Allow four days for curing each pound of ham or shoulder and three days for each pound of bacon and smaller pieces. For example, a 15 pound ham will take 60 days; a piece of bacon weighing 10 pounds, 30 days.

"All the ingredients are placed in the water and stirred thoroughly. The brine mixture should be prepared the day before it is to be used so that it will be completely dissolved. Place the hams on the bottom of the container, shoulders next, with the bacon sides and small cuts on top. Cover with boards weighted with stones or bricks, as iron rusts and stains the meat.

Pour the pickle in and be sure that it covers the meat thoroughly. In seven days take out all the meat, remove the pickle, replace the meat in the container, weight it down, then cover again with the pickle. Repeat this process every seven days until the cure is completed.

"If the pickle becomes ropy, take out all the meat and wash it and the container. Boil the ropy pickle, or better, make new pickle. When each piece of meat has received the proper cure, remove it from the pickle and wash in

THE FORUM'S Open Column

Nodaway Children and Hogs.
Maryville, Mo., Jan. 18, 1932.
Editor Daily Forum:

As a member of the Extension Service, I want to correct a statement about 4-H club work made by a Nodaway county citizen at the recent tax reduction meeting held in St. Joseph.

I refer to the following statement made by Dwight Swinford, as taken from the St. Joseph Gazette: "They pick the best boy and girl by marching them like hogs before the grandstand," said Swinford. "What farmers can help it whether his boy has one defect or another?"

Any boy or girl in Nodaway county between the ages of 10 and 21 years of age can become a member of a 4-H club. Four-H club members are not "picked." New members are welcomed at all times. They are not given a physical examination and are admitted regardless of defects. It is true that a health contest usually is sponsored and the healthiest boy and girl are selected. All boys and girls are scored, and if defects are found they are urged by the Extension people to have them corrected. Their 4-H club membership continues.

I am surprised that a Nodaway county tax payer would compare the youth of our county with a group of hogs marching before a grandstand. The most important people in the world today are boys and girls in their teens. It is they who will settle all the great questions of life. They need encouragement.

Nodaway county now has 300 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H club work. The extension agents would welcome the time when every boy and girl in Nodaway county between the ages of 10 and 21 would become members of a 4-H club.

Respectfully submitted,
A. J. DINSDALE,
County Extension Agent.

Cape Girardeau Forward Leads in M.I.A.A. Scoring

Steller Has Made 22 Points in Two Conference Games.

Casteller, flashy Cape Girardeau forward, is the leading scorer in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association basketball race. In two games the Indian has counted ten times from the field and twice from the foul line for twenty-two points. "Jumping Jack" McCracken, pivot man, and Tom Merrick, elongated forward and guard, both of the Maryville Bears, are tied for second with fifteen points each in three games. The diminutive Indian forward and running mate of Masteller, is fourth with twelve points in two games. These men are the only ones in the M. I. A. A. who have scored more than ten points, but Maryville and Cape Girardeau are the only teams who have won two or more Conference games. H. Fischer and Ted Hodgkinson, both forwards, have nine points each and the fifth and sixth, while Erickson of Cape Girardeau, in two games, and McGraw of Kirksville, in one game, have scored eight points. Both Kirksville and Warrensburg players will have a chance to increase their totals Friday night when they play their second game of the season at Warrensburg.

The scorers in the Conference are:

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by William Braucher

DID YOU KNOW THAT—If you happen to be going to England and feel the need of an argument, just stand up somewhere in public when you get there and tell that part of the world that Phar Lap is a better horse than Carbine, noted English runner of 40 years ago—Carbine once conceded 21 pounds to the great Bravo—lost by a length—running with a bandaged foot injured in training—Phar Lap has the blood of Carbine in his veins—he is by Night Raid, an imported English horse, out of Entreaty, a New Zealand mare—he holds the Australian record for the 1 1/4-mile—making it in 2:02 2/5.

Who loses What?

Ball players who refuse to accept fat cuts in fat salaries in these somewhat kimp days are bound to lose favor with part of their beloved public. Baseball magnates who proffer the foreboding fat cuts with no corresponding fat in admission price, also are pretty sure to lose a certain amount of public sympathy. But when the baseball season opens, and when the Babe starts banging them over the wall again, and Hack Wilson tries his comeback, and Burleigh Grimes tries to win a few games for the Cubs just to spite Rogers Hornsby—do you think the loss of sympathy will be noticed very keenly?

One Point of View

The deadline of a man's ball playing days comes between 35 and 40. He must cash in while the cashing is good. Babe Ruth will be 38 Feb. 7. Two more years! He was worth $80,000 last year. With a great year behind him the young man hardly can be blamed for refusing to discount his performances of the next two seasons as those of a senile athlete. In this adventure, Babe Ruth is fortunate that Colonel Ruppert is his employer, and not Sam Breadon or Barney Dreyfus.

You Don't Say!

In the next world series, by the way, between the Yankees and Brooklyn, Babe Ruth will bat .650 and hit eight home runs.

We don't know for sure yet about Brooklyn winning the pennant, but are pretty positive about the Yankees. Colonel Ruppert already has told us the Yankees are in. Usually Colonel Ruppert isn't dead certain about the race until the latter part of February. This year he became convinced in January.

Yankee Holdouts Have Good Chance to Win Argument

New York, Jan. 19.—(P)—Of all the holdouts, real and alleged, who have bobbed up since the baseball front offices began mailing out contracts a fortnight ago, those who wear the livery of the New York Yankees probably have the best chance of making their arguments stick.

It is no secret that the Ruppertmen are gunning for the 1932 American League pennant, and the consensus is they will not let a few thousand dollars stand between them and a shot at the flag.

Since the announcement the Philadelphia Athletics would stand pat with last year's line-up, the Yanks feel they have at least an even chance of beating Connie Mack's veteran team to the wire next year.

Ben Chapman, who advised the Yankees yesterday he was not satisfied with the contract offered him, was the sparkplug of the 1931 Yankee attack. He didn't hit as high as several of his teammates, but he was the leading base stealer of the major leagues and was immensely popular with the Yankee Stadium clientele. The same in Babe Ruth's case. So far, he and Col. Ruppert have made no effort to smooth out their difficulty—the difference between $80,000 and $70,000.

Max Schmeling Is Now Willing to Fight Sharkey

Heavyweight Champion Renounces All Hopes of Fighting Walker.

New York, Jan. 19.—(P)—Max Schmeling has decided he might just as well fight Jack Sharkey after all. Schmeling publicly renounced yesterday all hopes of meeting Mickey Walker in a title skirmish this winter because of both promotional and public sympathy toward the match.

He was ready to appear today before the New York State Athletic Commission and attest his willingness to meet Sharkey.

The youthful German, in figure like Jack Dempsey in his halcyon days, fought Sharkey the night of June 12, 1930. In the fourth round he sank to the floor, claiming a foul. Referee Jimmy Crowley awarded him the decision. With it went recognition here as heavyweight champion of the world.

The young German stumbled across the ring that night after the decision was announced and promised Sharkey "first revenge" and the first chance to win the title.

A short time later Schmeling returned to Germany without fighting Sharkey and when he came back to New York last summer it was for an exhibition tour to prepare him for a victory engagement with William L. (Young) Strickling, in Cleveland. He has been under suspension here, stripped of recognition as champion in the state where he was first crowned, for his refusal to meet Sharkey.

Although no contracts have been signed, it seems likely Schmeling and Sharkey will fight in Yankee Stadium sometime in June. Joe Jacobs, manager of the German, said he would accept the best offer for the Sharkey match, but all things being equal, would give the preference to New York and Madison Square Garden.

Jake Schaefer Is Making Bid For 3-Cushion Title

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(P)—Jake Schaefer, colorful king of the world's 18.2 ball game, reaches tonight for another crown in the 1932 world's championship three cushion tournament.

He is scheduled to meet the veteran Tiff Denton of Kansas City, a former world's champion, as he stages the title debut in the angle game.

Schaefer has been in the spotlight since he astonished the billiard world in 1921 by defeating Willie Hoppe for the 18.2 ball game crown.

He was an interested spectator at the opening three-cushion game last night and watched Arthur Thurnblad, the defending champion, and Johnny Layton, ten times a king, score their first victories.

In the first game tonight, Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago, the Southpaw who held the world's crown nine times, will engage another veteran, Gus Coppitos, now of Eugene, Ore.

The opening match of the afternoon was slated between Otto Reisel of Philadelphia, also a former champion, and J. N. Bozeman, of Vallejo, Calif., the youthful and confident western champion. In the second contest, Allen Hall of Chicago, the favored young star, plays N. S. Scoville, of Buffalo, winner of the eastern championship the past two years.

The form Layton displayed last night has won him serious consideration as a contender. He defeated Len Kenny of Chicago, the northern champion, 50 to 27 in 36 innings, displaying some brilliant shooting. He had high runs of 8 and 6 and at no time was the outcome in doubt. An early run of 6 gave him a substantial margin and his run of 8 virtually decided the game.

Thurnblad came through with a victory over Bud Westhus of St. Louis, the southern titlist, winning 50 to 32 in 6 sittings.

Master Farmer Relies on Help of County Agent

W. H. Neergaard Believes in Operating on Scientific Basis.

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 19.—(P)—W. H. Neergaard, who recently was named a Master Farmer by the Missouri Ruralist, believes that anyone willing to work hard, and to use the help of the college of agriculture and the county farm agent, can get into the farming business with a capital of $500 and make a success of it.

Neergaard operates a model dairy and poultry farm of 40 acres near here. "Of course," he says, "anyone can't raise chickens and keep a dairy herd, but sound farming will work out just as well in other lines of agricultural activity."

Borrowed $200 to Start. When Neergaard, now 50 years old, decided to buy a place of his own 23 years ago, he borrowed $200 to make the down payment. His tract, he says, then was so rocky "you could walk across it without touching the ground." From the rocks, which hampered his efforts in the early years, Neergaard has built a striking collection of farm buildings and slightly fences.

During the year ending Nov. 28, 1931, while farm prices were lower than for many years, the Neergaard farm yielded products worth $4,664.96, while it cost $2,620.90 to operate.

Neergaard gives most of the credit for his success as a farmer to the Missouri College of Agriculture and county farm agents who have advised him. By following the scientific advice of the college of agriculture, he says, he has made farming profitable.

"The first few years were slow sledding," he said, "but finally we began to see our way out and improve the place as we went along. Always we have tried to keep in mind that the world doesn't owe us a living, but that we owe it to the world to make a living."

"If my farm wasn't better when I left it than when I began, I would feel I hadn't made a living."

The small size of the farm, which cost $62.50 an acre, has been a tremendous advantage instead of a handicap, Neergaard says. He believes that no man can farm more than 40 acres and give to all his crops the attention necessary.

Robert Neergaard, his 15-year-old son, a student at the Springfield high school, also is an enthusiastic farmer. He is active in 4-H club work, and has carried out club projects by raising 170 White Leghorn pullets and starting a Guernsey Dairy herd of his own.

Robert is paid like any other farm hand for the work he does on the farm in addition to the chores. During the winter Neergaard and his son are able to care for the farm work alone, but in the summertime help is employed.

Anti-Saloon League Is Startled by Gov. Murray's Address

Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—A startled anti-saloon league convention weighed today a surprise suggestion from Governor Murray of Oklahoma that a more satisfactory form of liquor control might be substituted for existing prohibition.

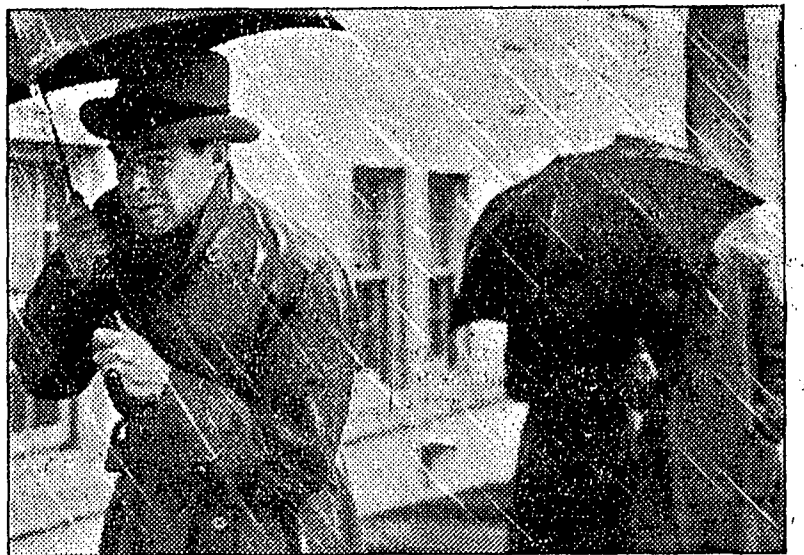

Recognized as a dry, the picturesque "Alfalfa Bill" was given prominent place on last night's program of the big biennial convention, following close upon a stirring address by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., defending the prohibition part he and other southern churchmen had played in political campaigns, and promising more of the same if necessary.

The Oklahoman had distributed to the press a speech which among other things asserted he believed "that prohibition will not prove the wisest legal solution of the control of the liquor traffic."

This sentence and some others like it, he left unuttered when he mounted the platform, but the general tenor of the original draft was maintained and afterwards he explained he would stand absolutely back of the written version. "I got started off wrong and never could get back. I kept a close eye on that crowd and I knew they weren't in sympathy with my views. The mentality of the crowd wasn't what I expected." With that he let the matter pass.

His analysis of the audience's sympathies apparently was correct. They followed his words closely but with almost no applause.

SORE THROAT

There's a world of winter comfort in Bayer Aspirin tablets. If you take them only to break-up colds, you know only half the story. Three tablets crushed in a little water will relieve the sorest throat with one good gargle. That's what the specialists use in cases of sore throat. That's what you ought to use at home—every time you want throat comfort and protection from infection. Remember, every case of tonsillitis began with just a sore throat! Don't neglect any sore throat. Gargle with Bayer Aspirin at the first tickling felt. Take a couple of tablets for that headache that comes with a cold—for neuralgia, neuritis, or similar pain. If it's genuine Bayer, it can't hurt the heart.

"I've been CHASING YOU 12 miles...."

to tell You . . . . . You've Lost Your Oil"

Two cars raced along the highway east of Abilene, Texas. The second driver finally overtook the leader and signaled to stop.

"I've been chasing you twelve miles to tell you you've lost your oil," he called to J. W. Bell. Mr. Bell found that a rock in the road had knocked a hole in the crankcase, allowing the Conoco Germ Processed Oil to drain out.

But examination of the motor showed no damage done. The "Hidden Quart" had protected the motor!

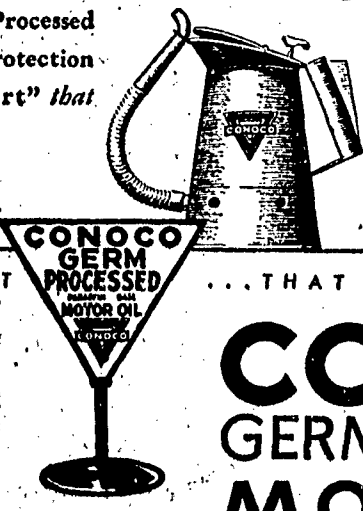

Only Conoco Germ Processed Oil offers the extra protection of the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away.

Only Germ Processed Oil actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces.

You need that extra protection during the starting period, when almost half your motor wear occurs. Oils not Germ Processed drain away, leaving parts unprotected. Germ Processed Oil stays on the job to cut down starting wear, giving your motor longer life, with fewer repair bills. It is the safest, surest lubrication you can buy.

Change to Germ Processed Oil now at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

We neither encourage "dry crankcase" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But unsolicited letters from motorists, now in our files, tell of this and hundreds of other runs with empty crankcases but without damage.

FAITH IS NEEDED

All blessings are not to be counted in dollars and cents, believes the Jefferson City Post-Tribune, which recently printed an editorial on "Our Little Faith," which is given below:

We are just a dozen days away from a year that, in many ways, was the hardest in ages. Almost every citizen of the country was glad to bid adieu to 1931. And yet, if we view properly the year that has just died, it was not such a bad one. In some respects it will prove one of the best years of our generation has known. But business was bad and profits vanished. For that reason a people that has come to count all blessings in terms of dollars and cents considered the past year a complete failure, and welcomed its end.

In recent years Americans have come to measure success and happiness by the sign of the dollar mark. So long as the volume of business is large and profits are certain we are content. We were quick to cheer two-dollar wheat and forty-cent cotton, even when nations were bleeding to death and the war which caused our false prosperity was sweeping the world with fire and sword and pestilence and famine.

When the war ended, material prosperity faded and profits disappeared, we counted the whole world lost, even though peace and happiness came to hundreds of millions of heart-sick souls. Over night we gave up and forgot completely the iron resolution of our forebears. We lacked the will and the courage to carry on. Apparently, we lost the faith which, in all the days of our history, had moved mountains of difficulty. We were whipped when the first signs of disaster came. We had dedicated ourselves to money-grabbing, and when there was no more money to grab we looked upon the whole world as an empty wilderness. Greed and avarice proved our downfall, and did more to cause our present economic disaster than any other one thing.

We forgot completely that we still had the love and esteem of a wife and children; that neighbors and friends cherished us for a worth not measured by silver and gold. We overlooked the fact that our less fortunate fellow-men looked to us for courage and leadership that would bridge them over a difficult place; that we would make the world brighter and happier by manifesting an abiding faith in earth's greatest value—God's humanity. Our fathers lived in sod houses and were content; our mothers looked beyond an empty frontier horizon and dreamed of a better day. They never believed that the whole of heaven and earth lay within the circle of a dollar. They prized faith and the firm resolution to carry on. They laughed at the difficulties which beset them; they had a fine appreciation of spiritual values. They were not two-car people, but they had a profound faith in themselves because they had a perfect faith in God. We have thousands of comforts and blessings which our fathers and mothers did not have, and yet with the first serious failure we surrendered.

As the new year is getting under way, our condition is not bad. True we had a two-year depression and money is scarce. But depressions have come with grim regularity during the past one hundred years. Today it is well to remember that every panic that cursed the country finally ended, and everyone of them was followed by an abundant prosperity. America is crammed full of food and other necessities; there is an abundance of money; our natural resources are superabundant, but there is want in every community. Let us not forget that while Coach Hank Iba now has his hands full. The Trenton sports writer, in giving an account of the Trenton-Maryville game here Saturday, said Hank has fifteen powerful players. The story was an account of the high school tilt and it can be imagined that Coach Wallace Croy gets a lot of satisfaction in knowing that H. P. takes care of both the college and high school basketball teams.

We never did like cats. After last night's affair we wouldn't give a thinker's damnation for a whole carload of the slinking, soft-pedaled quadrupeds. The cat came in on the climax of an affair that started off wrong. F. W. left for a few minutes, giving definite information to take the pie out of the oven when it was sufficiently browned. She came home in time to save the pie. And then the golden colored appetizer was placed on the porch to cool. Luckily F. W. stepped out a minute later to catch one of the feline species merrily lapping up the meringue on what was to be the family's dessert. We don't like cats.

In the first place we don't like them because mother had a horror of them. You know all that talk that such piffle is not inherited. But we naturally picked up the idea that cats were bad as we watched her sweep them off the back porch.

Much to our surprise the office grammarian announces to the world that the word "ain't" is becoming so nationalized that it is correct. Then ensued a long discussion and he still maintained his dignity despite the bombardment. However, he broke down and confessed he believed ain't is proper only as a short way to say "Am I not?" We ain't going to accept it and hain't going to let him use it in the news columns.

Ain't this enuf for today?

our profits are wiped out, the working capital of the nation has hardly been touched. Time and again our fathers rejoiced at such abundance of good things as we now enjoy. Just ahead of us is the end of a panic and the dawn of a better day. You live in the greatest country under the best government and among the finest people in the whole world. Have faith in them and it will help you to regain prosperity and happiness.

Philadelphia — Patrolman Stephen Tracey and Ernest Rutledge decided to raid a speakeasy. Neither knew of the other's plans. Tracey purchased a gallon of alcohol. When he stepped outside there was Rutledge, waiting to arrest the first man who came out with a package. The man was Tracey. They almost reached the first-swinging stage before the denouement. Later a police inspector introduced them.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE

KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANNE, CECILY AND MARY-FRANCES FENWICK live with their grandparents, once wealthy, now so impoverished that Anne and Cecily's earnings support the household. The sisters have been orphaned since childhood. The grandparents are known respectively as "R O S A L I E" and "GRAND" and they insist on keeping up pretenses of their former wealth.

Anne, 28, and Cecily, 22, do secretarial work and Mary-Frances, 15, is still in school. When the story opens Anne has been engaged to PHILIP ECROYD, young lawyer, for eight years.

Cecily brings BARRY MCKEEL home to dinner with her. She is falling in love with him. Mary-Frances and her friend, ERMINTRUDE, are excited about the arrival of a stock company actor known as EARL ARMSTRONG.

They meet him on the street and he speaks to them. Mary-Frances is thrilled, agrees to meet him that night after the performance. She tells him she is 18, fails to note the cheapness of his love-making and after the first meeting promises to see him again.

Next morning Cecily talks to Anne about Barry.

CHAPTER 18

"I can't think about it," said Anne. "I know, and I believe you know, that it would kill Grand and Rosalie. I mean—it would really kill them. They'd die. Think about going to them with such a suggestion! Planning to take them away from their home! It would strip them of their pride, and everything that they believe they have accomplished with their lives, and they are old. If we paid their board it would be charity and nothing else, and they'd know it. As well put them in the poor-house, so far as the fundamentals are concerned. They couldn't take up their lives in other people's homes. It would be like transplanting old trees into soil they couldn't live in. It would be murdering them, after we'd broken their hearts."

"I don't know that that is true," said Phil. "I think it isn't. But I knew you'd say it. I knew almost the very words you'd use. Except that you forgot to mention what you owe them."

"Just the same, Phil, whether you like it or not, we've got three little orphan girls with no other relatives in the world. And Grand and Rosalie did take us right in and support us entirely for several years. They'd do it yet if they could, and willingly—they think that they are—and they've given us love and interest and care all these years. I don't say that we've given them nothing. But they've given to us, too. When mother and father died, if it hadn't been for Grand and Rosalie, we three girls would have been reared in an orphan asylum." Her voice trembled over the last of it, and two tears waiting were wiped not furtively away.

Phil took his hand from the wheel and patted her knee.

"I'm sorry, dear, if I have worried you. Don't worry, please. Just know that I love you—and you only in the world. We are going to get this thing thought through and find a solution before long now."

"Phil, dear," she answered, "I am afraid we can't."

"And I'm afraid," he said, "that we shall have to. Very soon."

Marta was neither gaudy nor loud looking. She was becomingly and suitably dressed for morning in a tweedy suit with a trim little hat and dresden gloves that wrinkled expensively around her wrists; but all the people in the street car stared, as people always stared at Marta (Ann said it was because she held her head so high and took such long steps) as she came through the door, and flickered her fingers at Cecily, and swung down the aisle to take the seat beside her.

Marta was out so early in the morning because there was a dandy sale of ravishing chiffons advertised at Olders', and papa wanted the car, and it was no good going to sales unless you got there when the doors opened. As for that greenorgette and those other old rags, Cecily was utterly ridid. She had worn them for utter ages, and she took a fright in any of them this year. Lulu said the new things in New York were positively trailing.

"If I get something today I'll wear it!"

There's a "farmer in the dell" or "ring around a rose." The words and music of the song on the dress are in the Lin pocket.

to Gretchen's, though I wouldn't think of getting anything new just for it. Will you wear your pink? It's utterly adorable. Lulu had a darling, a little import, something like it. She's had it lengthened, she says. She couldn't match the color—a little import, you know—but she got white, and had it dyed to match, and put a flounce on. Maybe you could do something like that with your pink, if you wanted to. Did Gretchen ask Ann and Phil?

"No," Cecily said, profoundly unconcerned. "We didn't know that Gretchen was giving a party."

Marta clapped her hands to the trim little hat and dropped them into her lap again and slumped forward. "Honestly! I'm not promising this morning. Cecily, I shouldn't have thought that even Gretchen would have had the nerve. You don't mean to say you don't know why she has left you out?"

"Why shouldn't she? I haven't asked her to anything for years."

"Be your age, Cecily, but don't crawl. Gretchen has gone off her head about any girl but you at my party, so Gretchen is avoiding competition—Gretchen is. Honestly! Leave it to Gretchen! All right, I'll tell you what I'm going to do. Herbert and I'll go late. When we get there I'll say something about being the last ones, and then I'll say, 'No, we aren't, either. Cecily isn't here yet.' Oh, boy! Herbert will help me, and we'll keep it up. 'Where is Cecily, Gretchen? Is she ill? Did she phone or anything?' I will keep at it until I make her own up before the whole crowd that she didn't ask you."

"Marta, you will not! I wouldn't!"

"Won't I? Just won't I? Or else I'll show myself a grand time and tell her what I think of her and stay away from her old party myself. It is an utterly sneaking trick. That's what it is. I knew all along that she was throwing this party to try to grab Barry McKee. Well, I just hope she gets him. That's all. She's fixing up a sweet lot of grief for herself. I warned her when I saw she was crazy about him. I told her just what she could expect. But, of course, nobody can tell Gretchen Steigerwald anything. I guess I just won't go to her old party. I'll bet I can get Dorothy and Bill to cut it, too. Honestly! I certainly thought Gretchen was a better sport than that. Leaving you out! You didn't like Barry anyway, did you?"

"Well, yes," Cecily said. "I quite liked him."

Marta looked at Cecily. "Oh, my stars and garters!" She clapped her hands to her hat and held them there for an instant. "Wouldn't I? Isn't that just little Marta Baldwin, nee Nutty, all over? Honestly! Off I went, buzzing straight to Gretchen and dishing her all the dirt about Barry, and never saying one word to you—my best friend. Honestly! I didn't think you liked him. But, listen, Cecily, I'll tell you now. Don't have a thing to do with him. Give him the air. Cut him out with a knife. He's crazy."

"Crazy!" It sounded as if Cecily had bitten it in two.

"Or something," Marta modified. "Lulu knew him the entire two years he was in New York. When she met him he was going with a girl named Constance—something-or-other. I've forgotten her last name. I didn't meet her. She was in Europe when I was at Lulu's. But anyway, Lulu said she gave her a terrific rush. Lulu said she was an utterly adorable brunet, feminine type and not very strong. She had wads of money, her own car, and a chauffeur and all; so you can imagine how she'd dress and everything. A lot of men were crazy about her—but she cut them all out for Barry. Lulu said she just walked around in the Seventh Heaven—Constance, I mean, and then one day, without a word of explanation—not a word near a thing—he just dropped her flat. Wouldn't have another thing to do with her. Wouldn't answer her when she telephoned. Wouldn't answer her notes. Just utterly all over."

—and she had no idea why."

"Pooh," said Cecily. "I don't believe it."

"Yes, I know it's true, or Lulu wouldn't have said so. But listen, I told you about Bea Mickeltree, didn't I?"

"Was she the beauty who always slept with her earrings on and who collected jade and was so frightfully clever?"

Marta giggled. "You couldn't get over those earrings, could you? Neither could I. Yes, she was the one. But don't you remember that I told you she was having an awful time because some man had broken her heart?"

"Oh, was that Bea?"

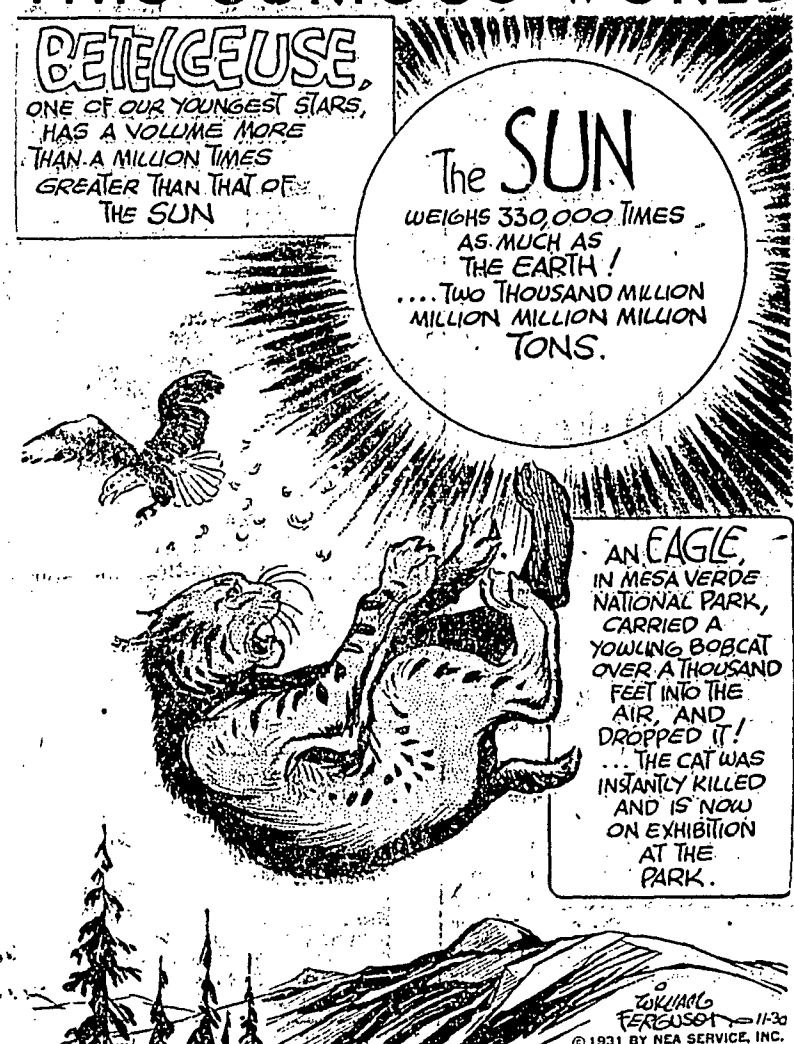

"That was Bea. And the man was Barry. Same thing as with Constance—right over again. Worse if anything. Lulu said, because Bea had to keep on with her work—interior decorating, you know. I know positively that it is true, because Bea used to come up to Lulu's apartment and cry and go on. Of course, I didn't admire that—but still, you had to feel awfully sorry for her. Every thing was all right, and then all of a sudden—everything was just utterly over. He wouldn't answer when she telephoned to him—wouldn't answer her notes: same thing right over

During the greater part of the year there are only from 20 to 25 in the park at one time. The others go out and in at will, jumping a 7 foot woven wire fence, but the cold weather usually brings the most of them home for feed. The severe weather of the last few days brought fifteen of them home, where the timid little animals know that they will always find a friendly reception and plenty of feed awaiting them. One of the little prodigals which has wandered from home, came back with a broken leg, the result of some hunter's gun, and some of them never got home at all.

Jury Is Unable To Reach Verdict in Damage Suit

Judge Discharges Jurors After Seven-Hour Deliberation

Decide Conversion Case

Verdict For Barnard State Bank Is Reached in Afternoon and Half of Deliberation

For seven hours a jury remained deadlocked in circuit court yesterday and finally was discharged at 5 o'clock in the afternoon by Judge D. D. Reeves. The jurors were deliberating the damage suit brought by Mrs. Leslie Ramsier of St. Joseph against Newton Long and S. P. Ross, undertakers at Ravenwood.

It is understood that the jury stood eight to four for the defendants. A three-fourths vote of the jury is all that is necessary in civil cases.

Mrs. Ramsier contended that her nervous system was permanently injured as the result of the shock and the bruises received when the motor hearse, driven by Mr. Long, and the car in which she and her husband were riding, collided on No. 71 near the northeast edge of St. Joseph.

Mr. Ross contended that he should not have been a party to the suit as he did not have an interest in the motor hearse.

Conversion Case Decided After considerable time was spent in the preparation of instructions to the jury in the conversion case of the Barnard State bank against Joseph Cunningham and others, only ten minutes on a side was allowed for arguments and the defense waived its right for summation. The case went to the jury about 10:30 o'clock this morning.

The jury was out an hour and a half and brought in a verdict for plaintiff in the amount of $360.60. The court gave the jury instructions to find for the plaintiff on the defendant's counterclaim. C. M. Copeland was foreman of the jury. The suit was over 486 bushels of corn at 65 cents a bushel, which it was claimed were sold by Peter Hansen to the defendant and the right to collect assigned to the bank.

Damage Suit Called The damage suit of Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Powers against the Maryville Electric Light and Power company was called for trial today.

Eighteen men were empaneled but the challenges were postponed until 4 o'clock, as the court was adjourned from 2 until 4 o'clock during which time the courtroom was turned over for a corporation meeting.

It is contended by the plaintiff that the value of their property was lessened and they were unable to rent rooms by the installation of machinery in the power plant buildings across the street from their property, corner of Fifth and Buchanan streets.

Other orders made on the circuit court docket are as follows:

Ida M. Hann against C. D. Caldwell, suit for note and money had and received, defendant filed motion for a new trial. A jury during this term found for the plaintiff in the amount of $1,500.

The replevin suit of the Universal Credit company against G. E. Tunstall was dismissed by the plaintiff.

A replevin writ was ordered issued in the suit of Barney Brady against J. L. Russell.

A motion was filed to set aside the sale of the partition suit of William Biggs and Mabel Woodard against Guy Clary, et al. It was contended that the purchase price of $450 was inadequate.

Senate Approves Theodore Roosevelt's Appointment

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Theodore Roosevelt came back to Washington today to receive his appointment as governor general of the Philippines, approved by the senate in record time. By the clock it took the "greatest deliberative body on earth" just ten seconds last yesterday to give its consent to placing the son of President Roosevelt in the highest territorial post under the United States.

Today Filipino leaders in Washington to seek independence, honored young "Teddy" with a dinner. After a few days of conference he will leave for Seattle to sail, probably, January 29. With him will go Mrs. Roosevelt, but their children will stay here at school.

Alms Blow at Jesuits Madrid, Jan. 19.—(AP)—It was learned today on high authority that President Alcala Zamora had signed a decree dissolving the Jesuit order and taking over their property in the name of the government.

It was said that the decree prohibits the Jesuits from living together in groups. The order probably will be published in tomorrow's official Gazette.

President Olaya Denies Discussing Oil Concession

Colombian Executive Sends Message to Secretary Mellon

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—A denial by President Olaya of Colombia that he ever discussed the Barco oil concession with Secretary Mellon in order that Colombia might obtain credit was presented to the House judiciary committee today by the treasury chief's representative, Alexander W. Gregg.

He read a cable sent to President Olaya by the Colombian legation and transmitted to the state department in answer to charges by Representative Patman, Texas, Democrat, that Mellon brought pressure to obtain the concession for the Gulf Oil company, owned by the Mellon family and J. P. Morgan.

Gregg said the cable was sent voluntarily on Jan. 16. It read: "In the negotiation of the bank credit to Colombia, neither the Barco concession nor any point relative to petroleum legislation was taken into account in any way."

Tells of Conversation. "I never discussed nor even spoke with Secretary Mellon regarding matters of the American government in order that Colombia might obtain credit, and the conversation with Mr. Mellon referred to that in the report of 'El Tiempo' of Bogota of August 8 of last year was in the nature of general appreciations regarding economic conditions in Colombia, and the mention made in it by the secretary regarding the possibilities that the petroleum riches of Colombia offer for its economic restoration were incidental, and I considered it then and have considered it ever since as a mere general opinion in estimating the elements which constitute the riches available for the progress of the country but never as a hint or suggestion regarding a specific litigation."

"This was the only time I talked with Secretary Mellon regarding matters referring to Colombia."

Final action on the Patman resolution seeking the impeachment of secretary Mellon was postponed indefinitely by the House judiciary committee. This action was explained not to mean the case was dropped but that future consideration would await the printing of the hearings and the receipt of material the committee has requested.

U. S. LOANS TO CHILE Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—An investigation of Chilean loans floated in this country, with particular bearing on any connection they may have with nitrate concessions was asked of the Senate finance committee today by Senator Johnson, Republican, California.

The Californian's request was in a letter to Chairman Snook, of the finance committee, pointing out that the Chilean ambassador, Miguel Crujeira, had asked the committee to investigate the flotation of loans to his country.

AUTOS COLLIDE ON NO. 71 No One Is Injured in Collision North of Maryville.

A Chevrolet coupe driven by Augusta Vert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Vert, and a Buick sedan driven by Robert Wamsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wamsley, collided on highway No. 71, about one and one-half miles north of Maryville. No one was hurt in the wreck, but the Chevrolet received a bent right front axle and a smashed fender. The Buick received minor damages.

Alms Blow at Jesuits Madrid, Jan. 19.—(AP)—It was learned today on high authority that President Alcala Zamora had signed a decree dissolving the Jesuit order and taking over their property in the name of the government.

It was said that the decree prohibits the Jesuits from living together in groups. The order probably will be published in tomorrow's official Gazette.

The purchaser's dollar will buy the largest dollar's worth in years here Friday and Saturday when Maryville merchants put on their "Way Back When" bargain carnival.

Prices of many items have been cut far below the lowest levels ever before reached, while practically all others are down to the point they were two decades ago.

Even more remarkable is the fact that these price reductions have not been made at the expense of quality. Scores of items of merchandise are not only far cheaper than ever, but are of far better quality than at any time in history.

Offer Startling Values. Maryville merchants are convinced that the only way to stimulate business and to assist in bringing about the return of prosperity is to offer values too startling for the thrifty purchaser to pass up. For that reason they have been steadily cutting their prices and improving the values offered.

But now, in this big two-day sale, even they are slashing even below the present price level to offer the most remarkable values since Teddy Roosevelt wielded "The Big Stick."

Business leaders of the country are convinced that commodity prices are now at the bottom; that the trend in the future will be upward.

The Administration's $2,000,000,000 Reconstruction Corporation will shortly be ready to operate. Its purpose is to speed the return of normal conditions. Its success will mean that prices will rise from their present levels.

Now is the time to buy. Values offered in Maryville Friday and Saturday during the "Way Back When" sales may not be equalled for years.

Watch for the advertisements in Wednesday's Forum.

Veteran Employee of Wabash Is Fatally Wounded by Bandits

Moberly, Mo., Jan. 19.—(AP)—M. D. Hertzler, 70, veteran Wabash employee, was fatally wounded in a struggle with holdup men here last night. He died in a hospital about midnight.

The shooting occurred just a year from the day he was held up on the same street corner, but bought off the robbers. His money was not taken in the struggle last night. His billfold, which was found on his person, contained about $130 cash and three Wabash checks which had not been cashed.

Four men were arrested soon after the shooting, but two were released today.

Hertzler for years had made a practice of loaning money to railway men and others and is said to have always carried a large amount of money with him.

For many years he was a painter foreman for the Wabash but for the past few years had been a grade crossing watchman. He was on his way home from work when attacked.

Rites For Wm. Zinke Will Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for William Zinke, age 60, who died January 15 at his home in Houston, Tex., will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Presbyterian church in Graham. Burial will be at the Prairie Home cemetery. Mr. Zinke, was a former resident of this county, but had lived the greater part of his life in Texas.

He was married April 5, 1899 to Miss Sarah Taylor, daughter of John and Mary Taylor of Graham. Mrs. Zinke died January 11, 1913.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Roland Taylor, Jacksonville, Fla., a son, Raymond Zinke, Seward, Neb.; two brothers, Charles Zinke, Seward, Neb.; George Zinke, living in Michigan. His parents live at Seward, Neb.

A Housewife Robot Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The robot maid that acts as cook, masseur and dish washer is here.

Called the electro-magnetic labor eliminator, this current directed and tireless worker made its appearance at the annual radio and electrical show yesterday.

Vibrating excessive weight off its owner and pressing a dress are only part of the robot maid's accomplishments. Some of the others are whipping cream, chopping meat, making toast, roasting fruit, barbecuing meat and separating cream.

And when the day's work is done, the apparatus folds up and retires under the kitchen sink.

The second marriage license for this week and the eighth of the month was issued this morning to Paul Pappert of Clyde and Camille Archer of Conception by Miss Margaret Norton, recorder.

New Outbreak in Spain Riots May Be Followed by General Strike

Madrid, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Rioting, burning and labor troubles in dozens of places throughout Spain during the past twenty-four hours was followed today by threats of a general strike next Monday.

In several sections of the country city workers moved out upon the land and began to till it, the owners in most cases, offering no protest. The workers declared they were ploughing only enough to provide themselves with food.

The general strike reports, which could not be confirmed, said Communists and Syndicalists were organized for a concerted revolutionary attempt to implant "Liberal Communism" in Spain.

Superiors of the Jesuits, following a revival of the anti-Catholic demonstrations which resulted in several deaths in rioting and the burning of buildings, ordered 200 novices at the Loyola novitiate at Bilbao to pick their clothing in preparation for leaving in case the government declares the order dissolved.

The government strengthened its forces in Madrid as a precaution against possible reaction here from the disorders which prevailed throughout the rest of the country.

Twenty thousand workers walked out of 20 textile mills in Barcelona in what was described as an "anarchist" strike. Building workers walked out at Pienza and the walkout was followed by a general strike there.

Official dispatches received here said the strike at Bilbao ended today and the strikers returned peacefully to their jobs.

State Highway Patrolmen Check Motor Cars Here

Several Drivers Are Asked to Have Defective Lights Repaired

Two Missouri State Highway patrolmen Cori and Poage stationed themselves between Fifth and Sixth streets on North Main street between 7 and 9 o'clock last night and checked upon all motor cars going past them. One of the men was in front of the post-office and checked cars going north, and the other was at the corner of Sixth and Main streets, and checked cars going south.

Between fifteen and twenty motorists were stopped and went into neighboring garages to have either the tail or headlights on their car fixed. In most cases it was the tail light that was out, but there were a few cars being driven on which one or the other headlight was defective.

The patrolman in front of the post-office would check the cars going north, and if either of the headlights was defective, would stop them. If both were all right, but the tail light out, he would blow his whistle and signal with a flashlight to the patrolman just north, who would stop the motorist. The flashlights which the patrolmen carry have three lights in them. One is red, another white and the third blue. To stop a motorist they wave the red light. The patrolman at Sixth and Main streets would check the motorists going south as did his companion.

Most Popular Boy and Girl Will Be Chosen at College

The most popular boy and girl on the College campus will be elected by the students at an election to be held under the auspices of the "Tower" junior class publication of the College.

The dates for the nomination and election of the candidates will be set by Miss Maude Qualls, editor-in-chief, and Clarence Woolsey, business manager.

The students in assembly will nominate the popular students. There will be no restrictions. The election of the candidates will be by ballot. The polls will be operated by students authorized by the "Tower" staff.

The popular boy and girl will receive a page in the year book in recognition of the honors voted on them.

Election of popular students is another novel feature of the 1932 "Tower" created by the staff members. The judging of class queens by James Montgomery Flagg, noted illustrator, was a feature earlier in the year, which created wide interest on the campus in "Tower" staff activities.

Thirty Attend Recreation Class Thirty men attended the recreation class last night at the College gymnasium, which is the second class of a series to be held each Monday night for business men of Maryville and men of the College faculty. Volley ball and basketball were played.

Says France Will Not Forego Claim to Reparations

Premier Declares No Cut Will Be Made Unless Debt Is Remitted

America Doesn't Agree

Settlement of European Problems Must Be Found in Europe, U. S. Is Expected to Reply

Paris, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Premier Laval, introducing his new cabinet to the chamber of deputies today, said flatly that France will not forego her claim to reparations from Germany.

France faces a double duty, he said, "the duty toward the generation which went through the war, to sacrifice nothing of what is due us without a corresponding remission of our own debts; and the duty to future generations, to subordinate all agreements to a just balance between conditions of production and existence."

FRANCE HOPES TO POSTPONE CONFERENCE

Paris, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The French government today mulled over a plan to postpone the Lausanne reparations conference until after elections which are due in France, the United States and Germany in the course of this year.

The proposal included extension of the moratorium on German reparations possibly until the end of the year and a concurrent extension of deferment of war debts due the United States.

Premier Pierre Laval sought the view of the United States government on the matter, through Ambassador Walter E. Edge. He told Ambassador Edge it would be difficult for him to go before the French parliament with a suggestion for an extension of the moratorium to Germany, originally proposed by President Hoover, without knowing what the attitude of the United States would be.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Any plan to postpone the reparations conference at Lausanne will be "absolutely unacceptable" to Germany, it was stated in government circles today.

U. S. IS COOL TOWARD FRENCH MOVE

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The latest European overture for war debt postponement has found no encouragement in Washington.

The American government is expected to inform Premier Laval of France in response to his inquiry, that a settlement of the troubles now vexing European statesmen must be sought in Europe, not here.

There is no disposition to be blunt about it, nor to close the door entirely to further American leniency. European nations themselves take such steps as to restore confidence among themselves, a plea for further debt postponement might find sympathy here.

Death Claims Mrs. Martha Morehouse of Hopkins at 90

Mrs. Martha Jane Morehouse, ninety-year-old resident of Hopkins died at 5:40 o'clock last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ira Gray, northeast of Hopkins. Mrs. Morehouse was born in Perry county, Ohio, October 4, 1841. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel P. Strawn. On January 9, 1868 she was married to George A. Morehouse. In the spring of 1869 they settled on a farm near the Good Hope church, having lived there since that time. Here they were engaged in raising fine horses and stock. For many years she has been known as "Aunt Mat."

She is survived by one son, John Morehouse, and two daughters, Mrs. Minnie Blanchard and Mrs. Gray, all of Hopkins; four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Hopkins. Burial will be in the Hopkins cemetery.

Burlington Junction Man's New Motor Car Is Wrecked

A new automobile owned by Lester Crane of Burlington Junction was being driven by Eugene Spratt, Sunday afternoon when it was wrecked. It went over a ten foot embankment, rolled over, and finally came to a stop about fifty or sixty feet away. The car was on its side when it came to a full stop. Young Spratt had gone after the car to take it to a filling station to wash it. He escaped injuries save for scratches and bruises. The wreck occurred on the highway No. 18 near the Mull creek. Leo Carpenter of Maryville saw the wreck.

Consumers Oil Meeting Company Reports Net Profit of $12,748

The Consumers Oil company sold merchandise to the value of $83,023.89 and the gross profits were $29,479.80 last year, according to an audit of the books as read at the annual meeting held this afternoon in the courthouse. The net profit of the company was $12,748.68.

The company paid out $1,312.75 in stock dividends and $11,500 in patronage dividends, the audit showed. Assets were listed as $33,828.79; net worth, $21,277.47; capital, $17,380; surplus, $387.78 and sinking fund, $3,409.69.

The rules were suspended as the board of directors were reelected by acclamation. The board is comprised of Hal Hooker, president; Frank Shambarger, vice-president; Fay Corrough, secretary; Karl Zimmerman, treasurer, and John Dowden, H. H. Gard and Charles Wells.

Total sales for the last year were listed as follows:

Gasoline, $54,643; kerosene, $14,111.12; motor oil, $9,271.97; cup grease, $681.80; axle grease, $135.55; alcohol, $252.18; miscellaneous, $3,095.71; barrels, $831.56. The stockholders voted that a committee of three should be appointed by the board to redraft the by-laws so they will conform to the state laws.

Railroad Labor Demands Specific Data on Situation

Executives Are Asked How They Will Use Money Saved by Wage Cut

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Railway labor disregarded the question of adequate return on railway investments today and asked the nation's carriers just what bills they had to pay with the savings they anticipated from a 10 per cent wage cut.

Plunging into plain talk on the problem of wage cuts for the first time since the conference of brotherhoods and railway presidents convened a week ago, labor spokesmen put this question directly up to the employers.

"If the railroads are in dire need, what are the bills you owe? Why do you need financial assistance? Are you asking us to accept wage reductions just because other industries have reduced wages?"

Wants Specific Data. David B. Robertson, chief of the labor delegation, made this reply to the request of the carriers for voluntary cuts, and asked the presidents for specific information.

After a session of an hour and a quarter the presidents promised to present the detailed figures on their financial condition. The conference adjourned until 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Robertson informed the committee of nine railroad heads that "it would be well to avoid useless argument about the value of railway properties, and the claims of inadequate returns." The employees, he stated clearly, can not accept the contentions of the roads as to their returns. Better, he said, confine the discussion to the actual needs of the railway to meet fixed charges and to maintain their credit. Labor, as Robertson put it, "wants the whole picture."

The railway executives had in their discussion offered a comparison of the cost of living in 1913 and today; Robertson rejected this as irrelevant.

He added that the cost of living played little part in the problem faced by the conferees.

Maryville Will Be Featured in Broadcast Wednesday

The Phillips "66" Flyers, commercial radio broadcasters heard each evening over the Kansas City Star radio station, will "visit" Maryville Wednesday night for a one-hour broadcast reviewing the features of this city.

President Uel W. Lamkin will talk briefly on the activities of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College and Fred R. Wolfers will speak of the commercial interests and industries of this city. H. H. Mutz, local Phillips representative, will also have a few words to say from the "mike" of WDAF.

The program, although it actually comes from the studio of the Kansas City Star broadcasting station, is so arranged that it will appear to come direct from Maryville.

Dawes Will Head Reconstruction Finance Program

Accepts Hoover's Offer to Direct Huge Business Aid Plan

Sec. Stimson to Geneva

Replaces Dawes as Chairman of U. S. Delegation to Arms Conference—Hoover Explains Plans

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—President Hoover today announced Ambassador Dawes would retire as chairman of the American arms delegation to become president of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and that Secretary Stimson would replace him at Geneva.

At the same time, the president stated Eugene Meyer—governor of the federal reserve board—would be chairman of the board of the proposed $2,000,000,000 finance corporation.

Secretary Stimson will not sail with the remainder of the American delegation to the general arms conference coming next month at Geneva.

Wants Prompt Action. His place as chairman of the delegation at the opening sessions will be taken by Ambassador Hugh Gibson, one of the American delegates.

President Hoover said these sudden changes in plans were necessitated by the fact that unless Dawes were named to and accepted the position as head of the new corporation, he would sail from the United States tomorrow.

The president is keenly desirous to have the corporation start functioning immediately.

A conference must be had between the Senate and House for reconciliation of differences in details of their bills, but the president is expected to have the legislation forwarded to him for signature in the next few days. Soon thereafter, it is hoped that credit can be started flowing from the $2,000,000,000 resources planned for the agency to live business in many fields.

Gen. Dawes Accepts. The president, announcing the selections at his regular Tuesday midday press conference, said he was gratified to state that Dawes had accepted the important assignment. The former vice-president, who now is ambassador to Great Britain but soon will resign, is a guest at the White House.

Presumably, the president has conferred with him at length about plan for throwing $2,000,000,000 into the nation's credit structure.

Other members of the directorate of the corporation will not be named at this time, the president said. He wishes to preserve a non-partisan character on the directorate. He explained protracted conference with leaders of both parties would be necessary before a final choice is made.

The president issued two formal statements announcing the sudden changes in his plans. The first said: "I have requested General Dawes to accept the position of president of the new reconstruction corporation."

"It is gratifying to state that he has accepted."

"Mr. Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, will also be chairman of the board of the reconstruction corporation."

Others Not Yet Chosen. "In order that we may preserve the non-partisan character of the institution, the other directors will be chosen after consultation with leaders of both political parties upon completion of the legislation."

"I announce General Dawes' name at this time because of the required change in plans as to the chairmanship of the delegation to the arms conference. Otherwise, General Dawes would be leaving for Europe tomorrow."

The president's second statement said: "In view of the change in General Dawes' plans, Secretary Stimson has undertaken the chairmanship of the delegation to the arms conference at Geneva."
